Be Passed—Wants an Extra Session.

The visit of Governor Dole to Washington has served to arouse much comment in the Hawaiian newspapers. The Kuokoa Home Rule of Saturday, March 22nd, has some sharp talk, the editorial which leads being entitled, "Who Will Be Governor?" It says:

"This is the question now before the people of America and Hawaii. There are a number of candidates up for the position and who have been presented to the President for his consideration. They are as follows: Jas. H. Boyd, R. W. Wilcox, G. F. Little, A. S. Humphreys, Sam Parker, H. P. Baldwin, and H. E. Cooper. Therefore, the Lahui will see that there are three Hawaiians and four foreigners in the race for the governorship.

"There are three political parties represented in the candidates thus presented to the President; they are those of the Home Rulers, the Missionary Republicans and the Anti-Missionary. The Executive Committee of the Home Rulers has decided upon Delegate H. W. Wilcox as their candidate for the governorship; but the question arises, is the Delegate eligible for the position while he is now Delegate for Hawaii?

We are of the opinion that he is not eligible until after he has served out the term of office to which he was elected as Delegate.

Therefore, the selection of Delegate Wilcox, by its executive committee, as the Home Rule candidate for the governorship, is contrary to the intent and purposes as expressed in the Organic Act of the Territory. And it is our belief that the position of the Delegate is under like circumstances and conditions as those of Senators and Representatives, that they cannot resign to accept any office in the government.

"It would be proper for the Delegate to give the Executive Committee an expression of his views and opinion on this most important question, for the benefit of the Lahui and the country. We have been informed that this Delegate is at present perfectly contented and will be in the present position he holds if he fails to gain the governorship.

"The work of the Lahui is that he should be the candidate, but in his failure to receive this high position, then it becomes his duty to exert his influence in favor of Samuel Parker.

"Governor Dole will not be able to leave here by Sierra during the coming week, for he has again received another attack of his rattle-brained governor's disease, a craze for the mountains. Wilcox will furnish the remedy to effect a cure.

Under the caption, "The Republicans Are Shaky—Its Leaders Are Demoralized—Home Rulers Victorious," the paper says:

"The Lahui now recognizes the force of the work of the Home Rulers of Hawaii. From the time Dole accepted the Presidency of the Provisional Government, the Thurstons, the Hawaiian people never consented that he should occupy such a position as to be their king. Therefore, from then to this day, that feeling still exists in the breasts and hearts of the people of this Lahui.

"And it has also been recognized by the Lahui that their activity and the results from the petitions and resolutions passed, forwarded and presented to the President have been beneficial for the wishes and requests made by the Home Rule Aloha Aina party have been recognized and will be carried by the President. The Republican party, with all the money it has at command, Roosevelt will never allow his clean hands to be soiled by any such foul, filthy work of these Missionaries.

"The leaders of the Missionary Republican party have been constantly holding meetings with Governor Dole at his office in the Royal Palace, for the purpose of preparing and gathering such information and documents as to place himself in a position to be fully prepared to answer in his defense when he arrives before the President. This is not all. Why these Missionary Republicans are now making overtures to the Home Rulers to merge with them, so that we may live in peace in the future.

"Now, as they have seen the world, the value and power in what has been done by and under the leadership of the Home Rule party for the benefit of you of Hawaii, this is the only reason why they seek us and make the proposition of merging the two political parties. What experience and knowledge have these Hawaiian mouthpieces had who present themselves before you the Lahui, in this and that week? How far did the wisdom of these fools lead them before they turned back empty handed? It was not so with the Home Rulers, for they went direct to Washington, reached and met the central government, where justice is administered by them, the supreme powers of our government.

"As it has been a well known fact to the Lahui that there has been a clash and ill feeling now exists in the three branches of our government. These are the Executive, the Legislative and the Judiciary, and suddenly a hurried trip is to be made to Washington to explain the reasons why such condition of affairs should exist. The President's bill is going to drop to the heads of government offices deserving of deprecation; the President will be the sole judge."

Under the heading, "News from Washington," the following appears in the same issue:

WASHINGTON, March 8, 1902.—Senator Geo. E. Carter is now here. He has not done anything of an important nature other than having met the President and talked over matters relating to his mission. I send you copies of the Post and the Times, and by these papers it will be seen that Governor Dole was personally requested by the President to come here to Washington at once. As matters now stand, he is in about the same situation as was the Governor of the Territory of Oklahoma.

The Delegate's secretary, Kalauokalani, and Edgar Cayenne, were before the Senate Committee in a matter relative to a bill for the apportionment of the Senators of Hawaii. These two servants of the Lahui have exerted themselves in your cause by opposing this bill. ART CONNOISSEUR VICKERY
EXHIBITING IN HONOLULUMay Address Kilohana
Art League
Shortly.

"The Boy and the Lobster," a photographic study by Miss Caroline Haskins of Honolulu, has been pronounced the finest specimen of art photography in the Hawaiian Islands. W. K. Vickery, who probably ranks third in the United States of art connoisseurs, saw the photograph last week in Miss Haskins' studio, and was at once struck with the artistic nature of the study, and especially delighted with the originality displayed in the posing. The boy is a young Hawaiian, well known on the waterfront, being one of the small army which dives for nickels and dimes thrown into the harbor from the decks of incoming passenger vessels. He is a pleasant faced little chap and has a good figure. Miss Haskins says the posing of the boy with a lobster in his hands was done with the object of having his attention so attracted by the wriggling of the crustacean, that he would forget himself for the nonce, and thus render him unconscious of the presence of the camera. The ruse succeeded admirably as the picture here-with shows.

"I don't know whether the Honolulu public fully appreciates Miss Haskins," said Mr. Vickery to an Advertiser reporter. "She is a true artist, and some of her studies are valuable from an art standpoint. She certainly has a bright future."

Mr. Vickery arrived from San Francisco last week, bringing with him a large number of valuable oils, water colors and etchings, the majority of which were obtained by him in Europe at the annual exhibitions in the London, Edinburgh, Amsterdam and the Hague salons. He has them now in display in the McIntyre building, the array being placed and hung in an admirable manner. In discussing his pictures Mr. Vickery said that his best selections have recently been made in the Amsterdam and the Hague salons, where the new Dutch school is presenting some admirable canvases. He rarely makes purchases in the Paris salons, not caring particularly for French products of the present day.

"When I first went to Europe and went through the different galleries I used to make a list in each of the pictures which I considered the best. Then I made a second tour of them, and, having had time to study them to better advantage, crossed off one here and one there, and so on until I found that my list comprised more of the canvases in the Edinburgh salon painted by Scotch artists than those of any other origin. These were purchased and brought to America where I found the patronage favored my own impressions. Last year Mr. Torrey went to Holland and lived amongst the Dutch artists with a view of ascertaining their motives in producing the broad landscapes which are characteristic of the new school. His life amongst them and in their country showed him that their subjects were indeed broad, and he saw much value in their pictures. He bought many and all found instant favor in the United States. As to the Italian school, I do not place much value in it at present, although we are going back there this year to watch the hangings of pictures."

In Mr. Vickery's display are two or three fine oils by Keith, the California artist, who is designated by Mr. Vickery as the greatest painter on the Pacific Coast, and probably the one man whose work will live longest of all the artists of the first fifty years in California. His "Moonlight Sonata" is a

What the Kidneys Are For

WHAT DOAN'S BACKACHE KIDNEY PILLS DO.

It's the duty of the kidneys to see that the blood keeps pure.

Not to make new blood—the food we eat does that, but to remove from the blood all the poisons and impurities—the waste matter—that is gathered up during its circuit of the body.

These poisons are deadly. If they are not taken out of the blood by the natural filters, the kidneys, they are carried back to the heart, and are started out again all through the body.

Of course they cause disease.

We can't be healthy if our blood isn't pure.

When our kidneys are sick our back aches. That's a way they have of telling us they need help.

It's the duty of Doan's Backache Kidney Pills to cure sick kidneys.

They know their duty well.

They are performing it here in Honolulu.

Here's a case in point:

Mr. H. H. Smythe, of Inter-Island S. S. Co., this city, writes to tell us that he was afflicted with a lame back for a number of years. "Ascribing the cause of this to the kidneys and hearing about Doan's Backache Kidney Pills, I got some of them at the Hollister Drug Co.'s store. They relieved me so much that I am perfectly satisfied with the result of having taken them, and can recommend the pills to others, suffering from backache."

Doan's Backache Kidney Pills are becoming popular in Honolulu because they are always endorsed by Honolulu people.

Our kidneys filter our blood. They work night and day. When healthy they remove about 500 grains of im-poetic picture. Works by Frank McComas, the young Australian who resided in Honolulu for some time studying the vivid colorings of the islands, are also exhibited. Mr. Vickery says he is assured of a fine future.

Among the Dutch artists whose canvases are shown are Van Essen and Weissenbruch, both splendid landscape artists. The paintings of Majorbanks Hay and James Hay, Scotch artists, are displayed. Nisbitt, the gold medalist at the Vienna exhibition, is displayed in two or three fine pieces. Mr. Vickery believes that much will soon be heard of the Celtic school of artists, as several paintings by Irishmen which he has viewed recently, show promise of greatness. He has only one Irish artist's work on exhibition, that of Claude Hays, R. I. A fine bit of English landscape by Weeden, R. I., has for its charm originality.

Helen Hyde, a young San Francisco girl, well known to Honoluluans, is the boast of Mr. Vickery. She produces etchings of Japanese, treating her pictures entirely from a Japanese standpoint and in the manner used a century ago. There are some original etchings by Whistler and Millet in the display.

Mr. Vickery is considered by many to stand at the head of American art connoisseurs. A word of praise or criticism from him is generally conceded to be the best criterion of the worth of a study in oil, a water color or an etching. He is known throughout the United States and in every art salon in Europe. The Kilohana Art League is making an endeavor to have Mr. Vickery address the League shortly on art, and it is probable he will accede to their request.

pure matter daily. When unhealthy some part of this impure matter is left in the blood. This brings on many diseases and symptoms—pain in the back, headache, nervousness, hot dry skin, rheumatism, gravel, gout, disordered eyesight and hearing, dizziness, irregular heart, debility, drowsiness, dropsy, deposits in the urine, etc. But if you keep the filters right you will have no trouble with your kidneys.

Doan's Backache Kidney Pills are sold by all druggists and storekeepers at 50 cents per box (six boxes for $2.50) or will be mailed on receipt of price by the Hollister Drug Co., Honolulu, wholesale agents for the Hawaiian Islands.
